

Name: _____

Period: _____

INTRODUCTORY PARAGRAPH

General Statement/s about theme that applies to all humanity and does not address text or characters.

Transition to text with FATt Sentence (Connect theme to text through focus):

Specific Thesis Statement: (Consider which type is assigned)

Sheridan Baker Template:

Although _____, _____
(counter argument/ opposition's side) (your argument)

_____ because _____,
(reason 1) (reason 2)

and _____.
(reason 3)

Device Template:

_____ uses _____ in order to _____.
Author Literary device academic verb → specific comment on theme

Name: _____

Period: _____

BODY PARAGRAPH 1

Claim 1 : (Make sure your claim is arguable)

Evidence : Quote, tie, MLA citation

Interpretation/Analysis : (Analyze word choices, explain how & why, make sure it is unique)

Transition & Evidence: Quote, tie, MLA citation

Interpretation/Analysis : (Analyze word choices, explain how & why, make sure it is unique)

BODY PARAGRAPH 2

Claim 2 : (Make sure your claim is arguable)

Evidence : Quote, tie, MLA citation

Interpretation/Analysis : (Analyze word choices, explain how & why, make sure it is unique)

Name: _____

Period: _____

Transition & Evidence: Quote, tie, MLA citation

Interpretation/Analysis : (Analyze word choices, explain how & why, make sure it is unique)

BODY PARAGRAPH 3

Claim 3: (Make sure your claim is arguable)

Evidence : Quote, tie, MLA citation

Interpretation/Analysis : (Analyze word choices, explain how & why, make sure it is unique)

Transition & Evidence: Quote, tie, MLA citation

Interpretation/Analysis : (Analyze word choices, explain how & why, make sure it is unique)

Name: _____

Period: _____

CONCLUSION PARAGRAPH

Paraphrase thesis statement:

Recap subpoints of body paragraphs/ specific pieces of analysis you found

Relate outside of text to all of humanity:

Leave readers with a new thinking point: (Perhaps...)
