

Adapting the Text to Modern Times:

- 1) Cast modern actors to play all of the parts in the play. Write a paragraph explaining why you think each actor will make a good fit for the character. Explain how well these characters would work together to capture the relationships in the text.

- 2) Design your own promotional ad for the play (a commercial, a billboard, a magazine advertisement, a brochure, or a poster). Write a paragraph explaining how your ad will grab your viewer's attention. Describe the focus of your ad and your strategy to appeal to a particular audience.

- 3) Drawn an image to use as inspiration for set design. Write a paragraph explaining the set and explain what type of props or objects you would include on stage. Explain how these choices in setting add to the tone of the play.

- 4) Draw an example design for a female and male costume. Write a paragraph explaining the types of costumes you chose and how they will contribute to the overall tone of the play.

- 5) Make a playlist of at least five songs that could be the soundtrack for this text. In a paragraph, explain what part of the story you would play each song and how the song captures the tone and theme of the part of the story.
